

AN ADVANCE BY BULLER

Forces For Relief of Ladysmith Have Crossed Tugela River.

BOERS ARE IN RETREAT

Persistent Rumors at Cape Town That Ladysmith Has Been Relieved.

COMPANY OF LANCERS MADE PRISONERS AT COLESBURG.

Boers Are Still Between Buller's Forces and the Besieged Town—Seem to be Waiting For an Attack by the British Troops—How Buller Made the Crossing Assisted by Gen. Warren—It is Thought That a Fierce Battle is Raging Today.

London, Jan. 18.—[Special Cablegram]—Official dispatches confirming the press telegrams that Gen. Buller has crossed the Tugela river was made public at the war office today. They came from Gen. Buller. He says that a part of his forces and a portion of those under Gen. Warren have successfully crossed the river.

The news caused general rejoicing throughout England. Optimists are now for the speedy relief of Ladysmith. Already there are numerous rumors that this has been accomplished, but Gen. Buller's dispatch under today's date shows that the movement has begun. Gen. Buller says:

"One brigade and a howitzer battery has crossed the Tugela at Potgieter's Drift. Gen. Warren has thrown a pontoon bridge across the river five miles off. His right front is being strongly entrenched."

Gen. Buller's dispatch don't agree entirely with the press reports, which described Buller and Warren as having pressed all their forces across.

There is little doubt but that the movement will be complete today. The great battle for the possession of Ladysmith should begin tomorrow with a combined British attack on the Boer left.

Additional details concerning the crossing of the Tugela by Gen. Warren, say that a detachment of his troops on the north bank of the river found a farm house called "Rhinofontein", full of the enemy, who had remained to harass the British. They fled at the approach of Warren's troops, after firing a volley. Warren later occupied the position known as Spion's Kop, opposite the Boer's center, five miles north of the river. As yet the Boers have not replied to the British bombardment.

A Cape Town special dated today, says that it is persistently reported that Ladysmith has been relieved.

Party of Lancers Captured

Rensburg, Jan. 18.—[Special Cablegram]—Nineteen men of the New South Wales lancers, while patrolling near Colesburg, met a force of sixty Boers who pursued them. The lancers made for a kopje and prepared to defend themselves, when more Boers appeared and surrounded them, making resistance futile. Three lancers escaped, five were killed and eleven captured.

On a Diplomatic Mission

New York, Jan. 18.—[Special Telegram]—Montagu White, until recently consul-general of Transvaal in London, left here this morning for Washington. His visit is supposed to be a diplomatic mission. He refuses to be interviewed.

BULLER HAS CROSSED IN SAFETY

Boers Taken By Surprise Are Awaiting the British Attack.

London, Jan. 18.—Sir Redvers Buller has finally succeeded in getting practically his entire army across the upper Tugela river, in the vicinity of Springfield.

The British plans, for once, were well guarded, and the Boers were taken completely by surprise.

The actual crossing of the river was attended by few if any casualties, so far as known here, but the fighting is said to have been serious since.

How near Gen. Buller has advanced toward Ladysmith is unknown. One rumor—unconfirmed but from a high source—is that the relief of Ladysmith has already been effected.

Other reports all indicate that Buller and Joubert were fighting a heavy engagement yesterday not far from the banks of the Tugela.

The fact that the war censor has permitted several accounts of Gen. Buller's successful passage of the river to be sent to London is taken as a sort of guarantee of the authenticity of the reports, for it has all along been generally understood that nothing was to be sent until Buller gave the word.

How Crossing Was Made.

The accounts are generally about the same. It seems that Buller began his march toward Ladysmith on Jan. 10, at the same time permitting false rumors to spread in order to cover his real intentions.

Gen. Buller divided his force into four columns. Gen. Dundonald, with a mounted brigade, was sent to take the bridge over the Tugela at Springfield. This was accomplished by a sudden movement, after which Gen. Dundonald took a strong position at Zwartkop, which commands Potgieter's drift.

The Boers, misled by Buller's wild rumors, were unprepared at this point, and large numbers of them were enjoying a bath in the river when Dundonald and his force appeared.

As soon as Gen. Buller had been notified of Dundonald's success, Gen. Lyttleton's brigade was sent to hold a position at Zwartkop, and at the same time Hildyard's brigade was dispatched from Springfield to hold the bridge and to protect the passage of the other troops.

GULF IS OPEN TO LAKE MICHIGAN

Chicago's $30,000,000 Drainage Canal is Open at Last—Dam at Lockport Lowered.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Chicago river and Lake Michigan water started with a rush and roar for the Mississippi and the Gulf of Mexico at 11:15 a. m. yesterday. At that moment the bear trap dam at Lockport was lowered. The greenish-white fluid instantly slid down the incline and began brawling in the bed of the Desplaines river.

The opening of the dam was made with the sanction of the State Inspection commission and after Governor Tanner in Springfield had signed a permit.

No time was lost in starting the current westward after the trustees had complied with the law. Fear of injunctions asked during the morning in the supreme court at Washington, by Attorney General Crow for Missouri and by Counsel William Brown for St. Louis in the United States District court in Chicago, lent speed to the trustees. When the big dam was lowered relief was felt by the men who built the canal.

The water reached Joliet, five miles away, in an hour. It washed out the dirty valley it traversed and was of a dark hue when it reached the prison city. This caused disappointment to some people who expected to see green lake water from the first.

NEW MANAGER FOR MILWAUKEE ROAD

Supt. Williams to Succeed W. G. Collins and W. J. Underwood Becomes General Supt.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 18.—H. H. Williams, general superintendent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, is to be appointed general manager of that system, it is said, vice W. G. Collins, who relinquishes the duties of that office today.

W. J. Underwood, now assistant superintendent of the same road with an office in Minneapolis, will be installed as general superintendent in Chicago.

Though the above appointments have not been announced officially, they have been agreed upon by the executive management of the company. Roswell Miller, chairman of the board of directors of the same company, has decided to move his headquarters from Chicago to New York, June 1.

HATE TO LICK STAMPS

Growing Sentiment That a Portion of the War Tax Should be Repealed.

Washington, Jan. 18.—There is a growing sentiment throughout the country in favor of the repeal of some portions of the war revenue act and both Senators and members are receiving large numbers of petitions praying for the repeal of different sections of that act.

These petitions relate principally to the tax on proprietary medicines, bank checks, telegrams, express packages, and all the stamps which people have to affix themselves. Quite a number of petitions of this character were presented today by Senator Fairbanks of Indiana from the people of his state.

Those who desire the repeal of these taxes do not base their petitions on the ground of expense but upon the trouble involved. The Ways and Means Committee has already taken up the question of the repeal of some of these taxes, but it has been decided to let them remain in effect for some time.

While there is a surplus in the treasury for the fiscal year there is a large deficit since the beginning of the Spanish war especially when the bond sale is taken into consideration.

The war revenue taxes, it is claimed by the committee do not bear heavily upon the people and there is little or no complaint about them. Consequently it has been decided to let the war revenue act remain in force until the government is in a position to make up the tremendous expenses of the war.

NEUTRAL CANAL IS DEMANDED

European Nations Oppose Fortification of Nicaragua Water Way.

ATTITUDE MADE CLEAR

Ambassadors File Informal Notice of Protest Against the Congressional Plan.

This is Simply an Opening Step to Define the Rights of the Powers—France and Russia and Other Maritime Nations Are Likely to Join in the Movement—Both Germany and England Will Insist—Russia and Other Powers Interested.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Both Great Britain and Germany have formally served notice that they will protest against fortification of the Nicaragua Canal if that water way be constructed by the American government. These notices have been filed during the last three days orally by Ambassador Pauncefote and Von Holleben. They will be followed later, if necessary, by formal or written protests.

It is believed both France and Russia, and perhaps other maritime powers, will join in the protest if the United States persists in constructing the canal upon the basis provided in the bill reported from the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce last Friday, and agreed to, with some amendments, by the senate committee on interoceanic canal yesterday.

England Will Insist

As soon as it became known that the house committee had taken action with a view to an "all-America" or fortified canal the ambassadors of Great Britain and Germany promptly appeared at the state department. Lord Pauncefote plainly informed Secretary Hay that his government had no intention of retreating from the attitude which it had assumed when the isthmian canal question came before the joint high commission. That attitude was favorable to the construction and ownership of the canal by the United States, but with neutralization of the channel by convention between the United States and Great Britain, this neutralization to be ratified later by other maritime powers.

If the United States did not accede to these conditions, said Lord Pauncefote, his government would insist upon its rights under the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and protest against construction of the canal.

Germany Backs England

The German ambassador, having no treaty rights in the premises, was without basis upon which to plant a definite statement, but intimated unmistakably the unwillingness of his government to see an isthmian canal made an adjunct to the military power of the United States.

It is an unwritten rule of diplomatic action that a government cannot be called to account for action by its parliament which is merely proposed, or for speeches made by members of the parliamentary bodies. The European governments are, therefore, debarred from a formal protest at the present stage of the proceedings, but have the right informally to serve notice of their intention to protest at the proper time. Of this right they have availed themselves.

CITY OFFICIALS HELD IN CONTEMPT

Judge Ludwig in Superior Court Kills Milwaukee Railway Franchise

ORDINANCE NOT LEGAL

It is Found That Judicial Orders Can Not Lightly be Defied.

Mayor Rose, City Clerk Schuengel and Twenty-Four Aldermen, Judge Ludwig Rules, Violated Injunction in Passing the Ordinance—Degree of the Offense Has Not Yet Been Determined—Attorney for the Defense Defends the Use of Money.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 18.—[Special Telegram]—The Milwaukee street railway fight was transferred today. This morning Mayor David Rose, Ald. Corcoran, president of the council and City Clerk Schuengel, accompanied by Attorneys Hugh Ryan and Charles Quarles, went to Madison and applied to the supreme court for an alternative writ of prohibition to prevent Judge Ludwig from proceeding further in the contempt case under which they have been convicted of contempt of court for passing the street franchise extension against the order of Judge Ludwig's court. His sentence upon them has not yet been passed and this is what they seek to prevent. The writ is asked on grounds that Judge Ludwig's court has no jurisdiction.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 18.—Mayor Rose, City Clerk Edward M. Schuengel, and the twenty-four Aldermen who defied the injunction of the Superior court and voted for an ordinance granting the Milwaukee Electric Street Railway and Light company an extension of its franchises until 1934 were held for contempt of court by Judge Ludwig late yesterday afternoon.

The court did not decide whether it was a technical or a criminal contempt, but said it would reserve that point for a further argument.

It Was Illegally Passed.

The court finds that the ordinance granting the franchise was illegally passed. Judge Ludwig emphasized this by citing the records of the common council to show that the amendments materially changing the nature of the ordinance, such as granting the right to run over a mile of streets not included in the original substitute ordinance, and changing the limit of the amount which the company can charge for fare, were introduced at an open meeting of the council and were never referred to a proper committee, although the minority of the council asked for the reference.

There is only one point on which the court did not pass, and this bearing on the contempt proceedings. It is the right of a taxpayer to maintain an action. This point will be argued before the court to determine whether the contempt is technical or criminal. Punishment of the defendants will be delayed until this point has been decided.

Invalidates the Ordinance

Belief is generally expressed that the decision will invalidate the whole ordinance, as there seems to be little question of the right of a taxpayer to maintain an action. Judge Ludwig held that the council had a right only to act within the power granted by the legislature and in accordance with the methods prescribed by the statutes, and that it has clearly gone outside of its authority in the methods which it had used to pass the ordinance.

The friends of the mayor and the councilmen have been standing on the ground that a common council is a branch of the government, coordinate with the judiciary and executive of the state. This doctrine the court distinctly limits, and says it cannot be applied to all matters which come before a council. Judge Ludwig holds that a court of equity has jurisdiction in such matters and that it may enjoin a common council.

Mayor Will Appeal

Mayor Rose said of the decision: "It has not changed my opinion of the law in the case. I think the court had no jurisdiction in the premises. The matter will be taken to the supreme court, and I think we shall have a supreme court decision of it in thirty days."

Punishment for the Offense

The punishment which may be inflicted by Judge Ludwig upon Mayor Rose, City Clerk Schuengel and the twenty-four guilty aldermen may be a fine not to exceed $250 or imprisonment not to exceed thirty days, or both in the discretion of the court.

Defense of Bribery

In closing his argument before Judge Ludwig for the street railway company, James G. Flanders, a member of a leading law firm of this city, made a bold defense of the use of money in securing the passage of ordinances of the kind in question. His plea caused great astonishment. He defended the use of money to secure the services of men who might have influence with members of the common council. He claimed that payment for such services could even be enforced in the courts.

Citizens Feel Satisfied

Great interest was taken in the decision by those who were apprised of it last evening, and among disinterested citizens generally the ruling of the court was received with deep satisfaction. It was accepted by them as a rebuke of the high-handed methods employed in the passage of the ordinance.

DIVIDEND OF WAGES EARNED

Appleton, Wis., Woolen Mills Shares Profits With Its Employees.

Appleton, Wis., Jan. 18.—The Appleton woolen mills today inaugurated the profit-sharing plan by paying over fifty employees a dividend of 4 per cent. on the amount of wages earned by each last year. No notification of intention to pay a dividend had been given employees by the company. This concern is the first among Fox River Valley manufacturing plants to introduce the profit-sharing plan.

HAS AGUINALDO BEEN CAPTURED?

Rumor to That Effect Current in Washington—Reply to Beveridge's Speech.

Washington, Jan. 18.—[Special Telegram]—A report is in circulation here this afternoon that Aguinaldo and a body guard of fifty men had been captured at South Manila by General Schwan and are now being taken to Manila. The war department has not received any official advices to this effect. The report cannot be confirmed.

Senator Wellington of Maryland, made a reply in the senate today to Senator Beveridge's speech on the Philippines. "Imperial destiny," said he, "is surrounded by all the panoply of war, of wealth, and of power, cannot wander hand in hand upon the same highway with the simplicity of a republic such as ours. One must be sacrificed to the other." He pointed to France and Spain as modern powers ruined by expansion.

WESTERN MEN FOR VICE PRESIDENT

Names of Senator Spooner and Henry C. Payne of Wisconsin Are Prominent.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Senator Scott of West Virginia today gave out an interview suggesting the names of Senator Spooner and Henry C. Payne of Wisconsin and General Harrison Gray Otis of California as suitable candidates for vice president. There is good ground for the belief that the suggestion of a western man has been put out for the express purpose of forcing the hand of Senator Platt of New York, who threw cold water on Root's candidacy, is evidently opposed to Bliss, and persists in suggesting "Timmy" Woodruff as the New York candidate.

It is believed to be the intention of certain members of the national committee to let Mr. Platt see that if he does not agree on some candidate from New York satisfactory to the administration it will be entirely feasible to give the nomination to some other state, where his good or ill will would not be a factor.

TO VOTE ON THE FINANCIAL BILL

Senate Agrees to Stop Debate and Vote Upon it on Feb. 15th.

BIG FIGHT IN PROSPECT

Senate Measure Likely to be Materially Amended in the House.

President McKinley Naturally Taking a Great Deal of Interest in Currency Legislation and is Anxious to Have Some Action Taken as Soon as Possible—Will be March 15 Before He Gets the Bill to Sign.

Washington, Jan. 18.—[Special Telegram]—An agreement has been reached between the republicans and democrats in the senate to take a vote upon the financial measure February 15. All of the democrats and populists except Allen of Nebraska and Jones of Arkansas were willing to make an agreement. Several days have been spent in trying to placate them, but as the republicans were not successful in this Senator Aldrich, chairman of the finance committee, said in the senate today he deemed it his duty to ask that a time be fixed for a vote and suggested February 1.

Senator Jones objected to that date, as the time would be too short for a full discussion of the bill. He said, however, February 15 would be satisfactory. It was then formally agreed a vote should be taken on that day, two days being devoted to ten minutes' debate on amendments to the bill. The measure should be considered each day after 2 o'clock.

Earlier in the day Senator Aldrich called upon the president and had a long discussion with him in regard to financial legislation. The president is naturally taking a great deal of interest in measure and is anxious to have some action taken. While a vote will be taken within thirty days this does not mean the bill will become a law at that time, but there is a long fight in prospect in committee, as the senate has amended the house bill materially.

While the house is willing to accept some of the senate amendments, there will undoubtedly be a bitter fight in conference over other provisions of the bill, and it would not be surprising if the contest should last a month, so that it will be March 15, before the bill goes to the president.

SUES MASONS FOR REINSTATEMENT

The First Time Any Member of the Masonic Fraternity Has Appealed to Courts.

New York, Jan. 18.—Robert Kopp, a Barclay street manufacturer, who for a quarter of a century has been an active member of the Masonic fraternity, has sued the Grand Lodge, F. and A. M., of the state of New York for reinstatement in the order. He was expelled by a vote of the grand lodge last June on a charge of having written an alleged impudent letter to the then grand master, William N. Sutherland. The case is expected to be reached in the supreme court this week.

No similar case has been tried in the courts in this city. So far as the leading Masons of the city know this is the first time any member of the fraternity has ever appealed from the authorities of the order to the civil courts.

Mr. Kopp charges that he was found guilty solely on the testimony of Grand Secretary E. L. M. Ehlers, who, he says, gave only hearsay evidence.

He bases his appeal to the state courts on his property rights in the Masonic Temple, Masonic Home, and Masonic Asylum. He sets forth that this property is worth $3,000,000 and is held in trust for the Masons of New York.

BRYAN REFUSES TO BE INTERVIEWED

He Will Not Express Any Preference For Location of Democratic National Convention.

Cincinnati, Jan. 18.—[Special Telegram]—When approached by a citizens committee to secure the National Democratic convention for Cincinnati this morning, W. J. Bryan refused to express any preference for any city. He also refused to discuss the probable candidacy of Augustus Van Wyck of N. Y. and Ex-Gov. Stone of Missouri for the presidential nomination at the hands of the Democrats.

LOCAL LUMBERMEN ARE INTERESTED

COMPLAIN OF LACK OF SNOW AND COLD WEATHER.

Has Injured the Logging Business in the Northern Part of the State—Many Rock County Men Have Money Invested in Northern Pine Lands.

Several Rock county lumbermen, having interests in the northern pineries of Wisconsin, are home after an inspection of the lumber camps. For the want of snow and cold weather, they report millions of feet of lumber now in the logs unable to be transported to the saw-mills. These logs are all cut. They are a long distance from stream or railroad.

There has practically been no snow this winter to speak of. In many of the logging regions no efforts have been made to transport logs by sleds. For the want of freezing weather the roads have not been holed. In many instances logging has been carried on by the old method of dragging the logs by two wheels. This method is too expensive.

As a result of the present difficulty many of the large new mills have been running slack through the entire winter. Last winter many of the lumbermen complained of the too plentiful fall of snow. In many cases it fell to a depth of five feet completely burying the logs so that the men had trouble in locating them after they were cut.

Local interested parties claim that the mill owners will lose much money this season on account of the lack of snow and sufficient cold weather to freeze.

MEDAL FOR SALOMON HEIRS.

Congress to Discharge a Debt America Owes the Banker's Progeny.

New York, Jan. 18.—The present congress is expected to give a medal to the heirs of Haym Salomon, in recognition of financial aid given by him to the country during the revolutionary war. The medal is regarded as a compromise of a claim of $300,000, which has been before congress since 1848.

The history of the claim has been the subject of discussion by historians before the different Hebrew historical societies throughout the country.

The claim, which was presented to congress in 1848, set forth that Haym Salomon, a native of Poland, contributed money for use in carrying on the war of the revolution. He loaned from time to time sums varying from $20,000 to $40,000 without a consideration. Altogether, it is alleged, $300,000 was advanced by him, in addition to various sums "gratuitously bestowed upon sundry eminent individuals connected with and holding important offices in the administration of public affairs."

BELOIT COLLEGE

SUMMER SCHOOL

It Will Be Held on Madeline Island in the Lake Superior Region.

Beloit, Wis., Jan. 18.—Beloit college will organize a first class summer school in the Lake Superior region on Madeline Island near Ashland and Bayfield next summer. The trustees at their mid-winter meeting here yesterday voted to send a corps of their best professors to Madeline island for this purpose during July or August.

It is felt that there is too much waste of time in the long summer vacation, which can be used, giving the students at the same time a good outing under favorable conditions. The "Old Mission" of Madeline island has been fitted up and offered to Beloit college for such a school.

The school will be devoted to the study of natural sciences and the early history of the Lake Superior region, together with such other courses as are demanded. Special emphasis will be placed upon the study of the natural sciences in the midst of nature's own laboratory.

Professors Desmore, Collie and Wright were appointed by the trustees to prepare a list of courses of study for which credit will be given in the college course.

The trustees conferred the degree of doctor of literature on Prof. H. M. Whitney, formerly of the faculty, and gave the doctor of divinity degree to Henry Barton of Liverpool, Eng., a member of the class of '62.

Bright's Disease.

So called, after the English physician, Dr. Bright, who first investigated its character, is one of the serious ailments of mankind. It is caused by a degeneration of the tissues of the kidneys into fat. This impairs the exciting powers of the organ, so that the urea is not separated from the blood. Congestion follows and there is a throwing off of albumen and fibrin. The patient presents a flabby, bloodless look, is drowsy and easily fatigued.

Woman's World

CHILDREN'S DRESS.

Party and Day Gowns For School-Girls—Costs For Little Tots.

Children's fashions are miniature reproductions of the modes for grown up people just as far as small gowns can represent the varied details of fashion within their limited space and the bounds of good taste, says the New York Sun in introduction to a summary of the same, as follows: There are double skirts, skirts with a circular flounce and skirts with plaits in the back variously finished with the inevitable rows of stitching. Then there are guimpes, yokes and vests of all kinds not too elaborate for children's wear.

Tucked ruffled silk yokes seem to be a special fancy, and yokes of white cloth striped with double rows of sou-tache braid, one of white and one of down flannel. They are light, flexible and porous and very warm and comfortable. All skating suits are made to fit closely, as any skirt or jacket flying in the wind not only impedes progress, but is unsafe.

The moment the holidays are over all the fancy things intended to beguile people into spending more money than they can afford are laid aside or maybe are sold; I do not know for certain, but this I do know—that whole blocks of stores have suddenly blossomed out into white.

There are thousands and thousands of white garments, skirts, nightrobes, and drawers and corset covers and all frilled and ruffled with lace and this in turn set off with light and dainty ribbons, pink or blue. This season vaticennes and there are the favorite laces, and nearly all the nightrobes and chemises and also the corset covers are V shaped in front. That would seem to indicate that dresses may have lower collars in spite of shirt waists.

Shirt waists of cotton and other washable stuff are now ready for the spring trade. There is a marked leaning toward polka dotted designs in all sorts of material, satin, taffeta, percale, pique and lawn, as well as some soft, light wools. These are very strong and semitransparent.

The form of the shirt waists differs very slightly from those of last season, the principal change being in the front, where there is scarcely any bagginess at all. The backs have yokes and plaits or gathers all converging to a narrow place in the center at the waist and spread on the shoulders.

The silk shirt waists are made with cording and leatherbone piping, and some have insets of lace run with ribbon. There are so many different styles that it is useless to mention more than the salient points. I might add that the silk waists and some of the finest of the others have dress sleeves with chatelaine cuffs instead of the shirt sleeves fashionable so long.

As to the white undershirts one can only say that they are marvels of daintiness to look at, but how much they would cost in laundry bills before the season is over I cannot tell. Silk, cotton, sateen and the whole line of oriental silks—which are really cotton, though simulating silk so closely that it is not easy to tell the difference—are used in the skirts for out-of-doors. Few ladies wear white skirts in the street, but for dancing and for dressy home and visiting purposes the delicate lace trimmed skirts are prettiest, and, in fact, any other kind of skirt would be very much out of place.

A favorite way of using lace upon a skirt is to have two ruffles outside and one on the underside of the hem and then a deep ruffle of batiste with festoons of lace frills set upon this, each apex having a tiny rosette of pink or blue baby ribbon.

REGARDING FOOD.

Eggs furnish a wholesome and simple food. The eggs of the turkey are best of all. Salted fish and meats are hard on the stomach.

Oatmeal is a strong food and builds up the muscle. It should be eaten together with bread. Rice forms the food of one-third of the human race.

Butter, if eaten moderately, will not prove hurtful. The system needs oils and pure butter furnishes these. Cheese if partaken of sparingly will not hurt one. If toasted it is rendered rather indigestible.

There was a royal blue velvet gown worn for a swell theater party by one lady who does not care to wear low cut dresses even to the opera. This had the waist of silvery white satin overlaid with black silk guipure lace. The sleeves were of velvet, and so was a little figure. Around the bottom there was a facing of the white satin covered with lace and edged with a narrow jet trimming.

Skating suits made of cloth, cheviot or the ribbed velutina are trimmed appropriately with fur. Those where there is no fur, Eton or other jacket are lined with chamolais skin or worn with an under jersey made of eider down flannel. They are light, flexible and porous and very warm and comfortable. All skating suits are made to fit closely, as any skirt or jacket flying in the wind not only impedes progress, but is unsafe.

THE OXFORD MUSICAL CLUB

Very Fine Entertainment at Y. M. C. A. Hall Last Night

The Oxford Musical club gave an extraordinary artistic entertainment to a packed house at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last night. The management of the lecture course personally and jointly endorsed this performance in advance as a first class entertainment and they can congratulate themselves. The large audience was immensely pleased. There were thirteen numbers on the program and every one of them was vociferously applauded and encored.

The opening march, a mandolin, banjo and piccolo combination attested the musical ability of the performers. Messrs. Thrasher and Korman, respectively tenor and bass, rendered some very pleasing vocal selections. "Ten Minutes With the Minstrels" was very much enjoyed. Trombone and cornet solos by Messrs. Proctor and Rinowald were very fine.

It was a very fine musical entertainment and reflected credit on the Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course management.

A Quarantine Against Cows.

A curious contest is going on in Tampa, Fla. Residents of certain sections of the city want an exemption made of their part of the city so that cows may graze in the streets. Other residents do not want this, and the fight is a lively one, the city administration being the sufferer. So many depredations have been made recently by cows running at large in the streets that the irate residents and owners of lawns and flower gardens have organized a shotgun quarantine against the cows and declare that they are going to murder some of them if they are not kept locked up.

DON'T! WOMEN.

Don't write to a woman, when the roof leaks. Write to a carpenter. Don't write to a woman when the water pipe bursts. Write to a plumber. Don't write to a woman when you are sick, write to a doctor. But why such superfluous advice? Simply to call attention to the fact that "women" who are not qualified physicians offer medical advice, in advertisements worded in such a deceptive manner that you are apt to overlook the important fact that the woman is not a physician.

The great success of Dr. R. V. Pierce, in treating and curing diseases of women has led to imitations of his methods, especially his offer of a free consultation by letter to all sick women. At the head of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., and with an experience of over thirty years, Dr. Pierce has achieved the position of the chief of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases. There is no living physician, male or female, who can show an equal record of over half-a-million women treated and ninety-eight per cent. of cures. Write to the doctor. Your letter will be read in private, answered in private and its statements held as sacredly confidential. To assure the exclusion of a third party from this correspondence, every letter is sent sealed in a plain envelope, bearing no advertising or printing upon it. Address Dr. R. V. Somehow the brilliancy of the cut glass and bric-a-brac is dimmed after the washing. It's the fault of the soap, most of which contains rosin and alkali. Ivory Soap contains neither; makes foamy suds. Rinse thoroughly with clean water and the glass will sparkle with a new brilliancy.

A WORD OF WARNING.—There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory," they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Venezuela Insults France.

Paris, Jan. 18.—A dispatch from Caracas is published here, saying that anarchy prevails in Venezuela. Owing to their refusal to advance the government money, the directors of the banks of Caracas and Venezuela, including a Frenchman, M. Montauban, and other foreign notabilities, have been arrested, and thrown into the fortress. The French colony at Caracas energetically demands that the French Atlantic squadron be dispatched to the coast of Venezuela.

No Open Door Demand.

Paris, Jan. 18.—The statement in the London Morning Post that the Washington administration has received letters from France, Germany, Great Britain and Russia demanding knowledge of the intentions of the United States as to the "open door" in China and the future of the Philippines was news to the foreign officials here. They said that it was the first time they had heard of any such action.

Good Will to America.

Berlin, Jan. 18.—The reichstag will probably immediately ratify the Samoan treaty now that it has received the approval of the United States senate. The Neueste Nachrichten, which now often reflects the government's views, referring to the matter, says: "The latest development in the Samoan question proves that political differences arising between Germany and America can with mutual good will and without difficulty be settled to the satisfaction of both nations."

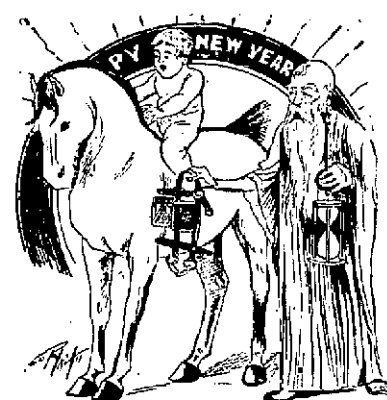

Indians Will See Uncle Sam.

Butte, Mont., Jan. 18.—Chancellor Charles O'Donnell has been retained by the Indian chiefs and head men of the Blackfoot nation to prosecute a claim against the government. The Indians claim that through false representations made to them by the agents of the government, and in violation of the treaty of 1855, they have been defrauded out of from 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 acres of land, or nearly a third of the entire area of the territory now comprising the state of Montana.

BIG GROCERY BILLS.

A statement by Dairy and Food Commissioner H. C. Adams gives The Merchants Review a text for the following editorial:

In one of our exchanges the dairy commissioner of Wisconsin is credited with the statement that the aggregate expenditures of the people of the United States for food products, exclusive of meats is $1,950,000,000. This is the nation's annual grocery bill. The commissioner estimates that there are in round numbers 15,000,000 families in this country, and he gets $1,950,000,000 by multiplying the number of families by $130, which he estimates is the sum annually spent by each of the families for groceries.

At $130 a year each family is credited with an expenditure of $2.32 a week for groceries, which seems a very low estimate. Perhaps $3 a week would be nearer the mark and if we start with that average we get a yearly bill of $156 for each family and a total of $2,340,000,000 for the whole country.

A generation ago sugar constituted nearly one fourth of the grocery sales of the country, but today, owing to the wonderful increase in the trade of canned goods and grocers' specialties, the staple occupies a greatly inferior rank, its sales being perhaps no more than one twelfth of the total sales of groceries.

Assuming that three fourths of the total consumption of sugar, or 1,500,000 tons, is supplied by grocers, their yearly sales of the staple, at an average price of 5 cents a pound would aggregate $168,000,000, which multiplied by 12 gives a total of $1,016,000,000 as the grocery bill of the United States.

Whichever of these three estimates we accept, and it is impossible to say which is nearest the mark, it is obvious that the distribution of groceries is a very important branch of trade, and it would seem that there is room therein for a large number of dealers without danger of overcrowding.

The La Crosse Chronicle says: "The Janesville Gazette says that Superintendent Hurd of the Janesville street railroad, has issued a typewritten copy of instructions to the local motormen in regard to the privileged few in the city who are allowed to ride free of charge. Those favored include members of the police as well as heads of the fire department. How, under the anti-pass law can any city official ride free without breaking the law?"

Merely a "compliment of the season," you know—not issued for use, but simply as a matter of form, etc., etc.

Arthur P. Allen's appointment to the vacant stewardship at the Northern Wisconsin Asylum for the Insane, is a graceful compliment as the place came to him without solicitation. This fact again demonstrates that good and faithful service always attracts attention and brings its own reward. Mr. Allen is to be congratulated not only on his appointment, but on the fact that he possesses the qualities that brought the appointment to him.

The Hon. Bathhouse John, and the Hon. Hinkley Dink, Chicago aldermen, were blackballed by a social organization that was pleased to admit The Hon. Tom Sharkey to membership. There is still hope for Chicago.

"Lord Roberts" says an exchange "has the titles of P. C., K. P., G. C. B., G. C. S. I., G. C. I. E., V. C., D. C. L., L. L. D."

No wonder they call him "Bob" for short.

"The Corbett case" would appear to have a strong bearing on "the Quay case," as all the Corbetts were knocked out.

The administration, it is announced, approves of Senator Spooner's bill, and expects its passage.

Three were killed and four were wounded in the last fashionable "gun fight" in Kentucky. This fact has no bearing on the fact, however, that the heathen in Africa are still sadly in need of red flannel shirts.

During 1899 the American exports were worth $1,275,465,841, and exceeded the imports by $475,652,021. The figures are considerably in excess of those of 1898.

Doesn't find it necessary" is good but "doesn't find true necessary" would be better.

MEN'S NEW FASHIONS.

Some Little Variations That Concern the Well Dressed Man.

In the general cut and style of clothes there is very little change. It is an old story to repeat the details of the morning or sack suit made of rough chevrons or Scotch goods, the frock coat and dark striped trousers for the afternoon and the conventional evening dress, and yet there are some little variations which need attention, and among these the New York Herald considers and illustrates the following:

In evening clothes the waistcoats are cut higher, and many of them have four buttons instead of three. These are in the same material as the coat and trousers. Even the white waistcoats of the season will have more material to them. The cloth waistcoats to correspond with the rest of the suit are single breasted and the white duck waistcoats double breasted. The best dressed men will have the buttons made of white pique or of the same material as the waistcoat.

The shape of the evening waistcoat remains the same—that is, although higher in cut, it preserves the perfect U, showing the top of the second button of the evening shirt. The best dressed men wear white evening waistcoats only with evening clothes. A white waistcoat and a dinner coat are not in harmony. White is the badge of formality, and a short black coat signifies semidress or mufli.

The evening shirt is made this year with a very wide bosom. In form this bosom is about the shape of an egg. It is a bit narrow, almost coming to a round point at the upper-

THE LATEST CARS

LATEST THINGS FOR MEN. collar end, and is a crescent at the lower. Across the chest the bosom is very wide, varying, of course, with the measurements of the wearer. This prevents bulging and secures a good fit. The evening or dress shirt is made of white linen, and it should be as stiff as a board.

The evening shirt must have cuffs attached. It is much better form that the collar be attached also, but that is not essential.

The tie for evening wear is of white lawn. The ends are square. The idea is to tie it in a very small knot and to make it even look as if it had been slightly mussed in the tying. In selecting ties or in having them made care must be taken that they are of the proper length. If white ties go to the wash, they must not be starched.

The all round or banded turndown collar is worn with the dinner coat. All the turndown collars have rounded ends.

With the dinner coat, which is sometimes called the Tuxedo or the Cowes or even the Newport, black ties are always worn. This winter black silk is much preferable to black satin. The shape of the black semidress tie is that popularly known as the batwing. A very pretty tie for this style of dress is made from black figured silk.

A man is allowed a little latitude with a dinner coat. A popular way of tying the batwing, and one much in vogue this autumn, is to give the narrow part two twists, so as to make a knot almost similar in effect to that of the evening tie. These ties when adjusted appear double at the ends and are picturesque and bonifant.

The top hat of the year has a brim that is slightly curled, and the crown is less belled. The English hats have very high curled brims and are round in the front and back instead of elliptical. The New York hat has a narrow ribbed silk band. The English hat has a cloth band.

A Round Table.

A round table embodies, even without its setting forth of china and silver, a hospitable atmosphere impossible to produce with the square or oblong size. An economical expedient for exchanging the last named kind for the first is to have a large, round top made of seasoned boards and fastened upon the table. This has been done in more than one instance by an ordinary worker with carpenter's tools, says The Art Interchange. The plan necessitates, of course, some kind of cloth covering when the table is not in use for meals.

Will Develop Japanese Mines.

The Japanese government intends to introduce in the next session of the diet a law freeing foreigners from all restrictions in regard to the mining business in Japan. The existing law prohibits them from becoming shareholders or partners in any mining company. By the new law such provision will be entirely done away with. It is evident that the government is beginning to realize that foreign capital will not come into the country unless foreign ownership privileges are first conceded. Mining enterprises requiring especially large amounts of capital, such privileges will now probably be granted. And it is likely that they will ultimately be extended to cover foreign ownership of real estate and industrial shares. It is quite evident that the mining resources of the empire are in an undeveloped state, and that they are arousing a growing interest and attention.

Secret Drawers in Furniture.

"Most people seem to think," said a maker of furniture, "that secret drawers and hidden receptacles in furniture only exist in novels and plays, but this is by no means so. I very frequently take orders for such items and I employ a clever woman designer, who shows positive genius in planning places of concealment which no amount of tapping or measuring could reveal. In most cases even were the hollow receptacle discovered the work around would have to be cut away, so complex are the fastenings. Most of the orders come from women—and rich people of course—and I have no doubt that a desire to hide articles from too curious servants dictates the orders."

Col. Colson Indicted.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 18.—Tuesday's triple tragedy has stirred the state from center to circumference. The Franklin county grand jury and the coroner's jury spent most of Wednesday investigating the case, and the result is three separate verdicts against David G. County Board of Supervisors by a Vote of 16 to 5 Voted This Morning Not to Consolidate the Two County School Districts—Salary of Each Will be $1,000 Per Annum.

After debating the greater portion of the morning on whether or not Rock county should have one or two county superintendents, twenty-four members of the county board of supervisors, now in adjourned annual session at the court house, by a vote of nineteen to five decided to continue the county school superintendency under the supervision of two superintendents.

Their annual salary was placed at $1,000 each in place of $800. Out of this $1,000 each superintendent is to pay all the expenses of his office.

When the $800 salary was paid each superintendent was allowed $200 extra expense money in case it was needed. If the superintendent can now save out of this $200 he is so much the gainer. Otherwise this change in salary amounts to practically nothing.

The Resolution Adopted.

After many of the supervisors had voted in favor of or against Rock county retaining two county superintendents the board by a vote of nineteen to five adopted the following resolution offered by Supervisor L. C. Whittier:

"That the two county superintendents' districts be retained as heretofore and that the salary of each superintendent shall be fixed at $1,000, which remuneration shall be in full for all salary or expenses of whatever nature or character."

Those who voted against the adoption of the resolution were Supervisors Barker, Gleason, Powers, Miller and Gray.

Only One Superintendent Needed.

When the question came before the board this morning it was quite evident that several favored the consolidation of the two districts which would necessitate but one county school superintendent.

This school superintendent they favored putting under a $1200 annual salary. They thought he could easily do the work. This would be a large saving to the county.

For years has been paying two superintendents about $1,000 each. Supervisor Powers was strongly in favor of paying one man $1,200. He thought the work in Rock county no more difficult to perform than in other equally populated counties in the state where one must perform the work. He stated that with the exception of two counties in the entire state of Wisconsin one man did the work of visiting the country schools of the county.

Mr. Gottle Favored It.

Supervisor Gottle was the main advocate who favored the retaining of two school superintendents. He stated one hundred schools were sufficient for any one man to inspect and do his work well. He thought the retaining of the two districts a move in the wrong direction. Supervisor Gottle stated that the salary of the school superintendent in the city of Beloit or Janesville was more than the salary paid the two county school superintendents put together. And the hard work he thought was less.

"I surmise that the prime object is not for the betterment of education but is in the saving of a few hundred dollars," said Supervisor Gottle in a loud tone of voice. "The salary now is little enough. Superintendent Ross is now obliged to devote a portion of his time to raising hogs to make up the deficiency as the result of a pinched salary. He should be paid enough to live on. The position is just as important as that of sheriff, county clerk or county treasurer. Once for all I wish you would stop this haggling for the sake of saving a few dollars."

Supervisor Baker stated that every county in the state had one county school superintendent with the exception of just two counties; and that he did not see where any of the counties were going to the dogs.

Supervisor Powers said that petty jealousy was growing in the two districts, and he favored one superintendent.

Hot Shot From Eager

Supervisor Eager sent a hot shot into the ranks of the board when he jumped to his feet and stated that it cost Rock county about $150 a day when the county board met and that enough time had already been fooled away on the county school superintendent question.

When the board was first called to order this morning a bill was presented by ex-Sheriff Acheson amounting to $20.41 which was for attendants that the ex-sheriff alleged he was obliged to hire to assist him at different times in conveying insane patients to the state hospital for the insane at Mondota during his term of office as sheriff of Rock county.

An Ex-Sheriff's Bill

Then a general discussion lasting an hour ensued on whether the bill should be paid or not. In the bill was mentioned carriage hire from Madison to Mondota. Several supervisors thought there was no need for this, as when the Chicago & Northwestern railroad was taken it would bring the sheriff within walking distance of the hospital. Another point in the bill objected to, was charging two days' time for taking a patient to the hospital. Certain supervisors thought that the time consumed by the sheriff in arresting a patient should be considered work that he is supposed to do under his annual salary paid by the county. On motion of Supervisor Cunningham the bill was allowed paid, after $11 had been stricken out.

ATTORNEYS MAKE STRONG ARGUMENTS

REBECCA MORGAN CASE BEFORE THE COURT.

Seven Grandchildren Do Not Want Their Deceased Grandmother's Will Admitted to Probate—Want to Again Take the Case Before a Jury For Settlement.

Before Judge B. F. Dunnwiddie of the circuit court of Rock county this morning, five local attorneys made strong arguments in the matter of the will of the late Rebecca Morgan.

Seven grandchildren of the deceased are striving hard to set aside the verdict of the jury that brought in a verdict sustaining the will which gave to Mrs. Morgan's daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Goodrich of Milton Junction, two-thirds of $13,000.

The seven grandchildren were left but $700 by their grandmother. This they are not satisfied with.

When the case opened this morning, Attorney Charles E. Pierce was the first speaker to take the floor. He made strong arguments in behalf of the grandchildren, stating that the will should not be admitted to probate.

Attorneys M. C. Jeffris and E. D. McGowan were on hand in behalf of proponent Mrs. Goodrich.

John Cunningham and William Smith appeared with Attorney Pierce in behalf of the contestants.

The evidence brought before the court this morning was practically the same as recently introduced in the trial before a jury who brought in a verdict sustaining the will.

Mrs. Rebecca Morgan died in March, 1899 at her home in Milton Junction leaving an estate valued at about $13,000. Two-thirds of her estate she left to her daughter and $100 each to her seven grandchildren. Since the will was opened the interested heirs have been at law over the division of the estate, the seven grandchildren claiming that undue influence was used when their grandmother made her will.

$20,000 PAID FOR A BIBLE.

Esoterium, Printed in Gutenberg's Shop, Worth Even More.

Fabulous sums are paid for copies of the earliest printed Bibles on account of their rarity. Yet it is known that many more were manufactured than have ever come to light, and every now and then we hear of another copy having been found in some garret or cellar amid the rubbish. The famous "Mazarin Bible" has been sold for more than $20,000, and this is called cheap, as it is one of the finest specimens of the printer's art ever produced, and, most interesting of all, was set up and published by Gutenberg in 1455, after three years of continuous labor. He printed only 100 copies, but eighty-five of these have never been found. It is called the Mazarin because the first copy to be discovered in modern times was in the library of Cardinal Mazarin. But there is another part of the Bible, called the "Psalterium," because it contains the Psalms only, which commands even a higher price, having been sold for $25,000, for but six copies are known to be in existence. It was printed by John Faust and Peter Schoeffer on parchment in Gutenberg's shop, and is the first printed book bearing the year and day of its publication on the title page. This inscription reads, "1457, on the eve of Ascension." Of course, all of the earliest Bibles were printed in Latin. The first complete Latin Bible with a date appeared in 1462, and is valued at $7,000. After that time many editions of the Bible appeared in all languages—German, English, French and Greek—and in 1514-1517 was the first polyglot Bible, one in which the Bible appeared in various languages side by side. The most valuable Bibles all date from the fifteenth or sixteenth centuries. After that no special value is attached to them.

AN ANCIENT COIN

One of the prized curios of the Philadelphia mint is a coin which is 2,000 years old, and which was coined at the ancient mint of that other Philadelphia of the far east mentioned in the Bible. It is still in good condition, and the inscription is perfectly legible. The design on the face of the coin bears a striking resemblance to the Goddess of Liberty of our own currency, and underneath is the one word "Demus," which means "the people." On the other side is the figure of Diana, with her bow arched, and the inscription, "Diana, Friend of the Philadelphians." When this coin was struck off Philadelphia was the most important city of Lydia.

$20,000 PAID FOR A BIBLE.

Esoterium, Printed in Gutenberg's Shop, Worth Even More.

Fabulous sums are paid for copies of the earliest printed Bibles on account of their rarity. Yet it is known that many more were manufactured than have ever come to light, and every now and then we hear of another copy having been found in some garret or cellar amid the rubbish. The famous "Mazarin Bible" has been sold for more than $20,000, and this is called cheap, as it is one of the finest specimens of the printer's art ever produced, and, most interesting of all, was set up and published by Gutenberg in 1455, after three years of continuous labor. He printed only 100 copies, but eighty-five of these have never been found. It is called the Mazarin because the first copy to be discovered in modern times was in the library of Cardinal Mazarin. But there is another part of the Bible, called the "Psalterium," because it contains the Psalms only, which commands even a higher price, having been sold for $25,000, for but six copies are known to be in existence. It was printed by John Faust and Peter Schoeffer on parchment in Gutenberg's shop, and is the first printed book bearing the year and day of its publication on the title page. This inscription reads, "1457, on the eve of Ascension." Of course, all of the earliest Bibles were printed in Latin. The first complete Latin Bible with a date appeared in 1462, and is valued at $7,000. After that time many editions of the Bible appeared in all languages—German, English, French and Greek—and in 1514-1517 was the first polyglot Bible, one in which the Bible appeared in various languages side by side. The most valuable Bibles all date from the fifteenth or sixteenth centuries. After that no special value is attached to them.

AN ANCIENT COIN

One of the prized curios of the Philadelphia mint is a coin which is 2,000 years old, and which was coined at the ancient mint of that other Philadelphia of the far east mentioned in the Bible. It is still in good condition, and the inscription is perfectly legible. The design on the face of the coin bears a striking resemblance to the Goddess of Liberty of our own currency, and underneath is the one word "Demus," which means "the people." On the other side is the figure of Diana, with her bow arched, and the inscription, "Diana, Friend of the Philadelphians." When this coin was struck off Philadelphia was the most important city of Lydia.

LOCAL MERCHANTS RESPONDING NOBLY

MIDWINTER FAIR COMMITTEE GIVEN HEARTY RECEPTION.

Donations Offered by Those Called on and the Fair Will Not Want For Liberal Prizes—Will be Held in February in Place of March—Promises to be a Successful Affair.

Committees having in charge the task of calling on the local merchants for the purpose of securing their united support in making the coming Midwinter fair a success, took the work in hand this morning. A most hearty welcome greeted the committee on all sides. The greater portion of the merchants called on stated that they were willing to donate whatever the committee thought was fair and just.

The merchants of Janesville are entering into the project with plenty of vigor, plainly demonstrating that on a whole they consider the holding of Midwinter fairs in Janesville a move in the right direction.

The fair this year will be held next month in place of March.

The dates now decided on are Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, February 20, 21 and 22. The fair will be held at the rink building.

Frank A. Taylor, the hustling implement dealer, has kindly granted the committee the use of the rink building.

At a special meeting of the arrangement committee held last evening at the store of H. V. Allen the following names were added to the committee: W. A. Jackson, B. F. Nowlan and Dr. Joe Whiting.

SHE LOST HER LOVE AND HER MONEY

Janesville Woman Tells a Story Which She Claims is Nothing But the Truth.

Said a well known Janesville woman to a Gazette man: "If you will promise never to tell where you got this information from I will tell you a true piece of news that will set all the gossippers to talking. And it's the whole truth. An intimate lady friend of mine who is now a school teacher here, was in love with a certain professional man now in business in Janesville. This was many years ago. He wanted to educate himself in college but he lacked the money. She had the money and on the promise that he would marry on his departure from college she loaned him $600.

"He took this money and graduated with high honors. Then his love for the school teacher grew cold. They never married. What is worse he never gave her back her $600 and he is supposed today to be one of the leading professional men of Janesville. I have advised my friend to sue before the question is outlawed. She does not want the notoriety such a law suit would bring. Never mind their names. The matter promises to become public property soon."

O. P. MATTHEWS this afternoon sold his interest in the Myers Hotel barber shop to William Hough.

CHICAGO'S
DRAINAGE CANALWhy the $33,000,000 Ditch
Connecting Lake Michigan
With the Gulf Was Dug.

BY C. J. BOWDEN.

Lake Michigan now has an outlet into the gulf of Mexico as well as into the gulf of St. Lawrence. This new outlet is known as the Chicago drainage canal. It was dug, not because Lake Michigan needed a new outlet, but in order to dispose of the sewage of the city of Chicago.

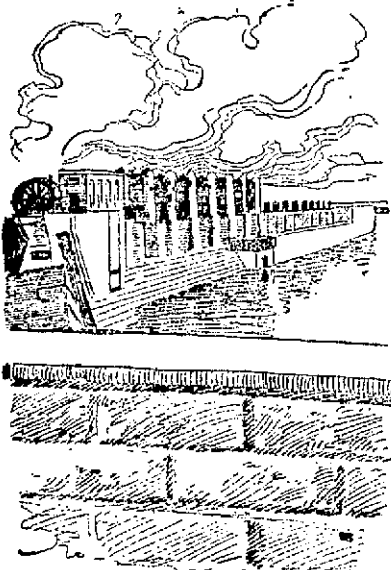

Formerly this sewage was allowed to flow into the lake. This was an easy way of disposing of the sewage, but it did not improve the quality of drinking water, which Chicago takes from Lake Michigan.

By means of the drainage canal all this sewage is now sent south through the Desplaines and Illinois rivers into the Mississippi. The Father of Waters takes it on to the gulf.

The building of this big ditch has been a task of large proportions. If we are to believe the citizens of Chicago, it is the biggest ditch ever dug. But you must remember that Chicago people have much local pride and are apt to become enthusiastic when speaking of their own city to outsiders. But it has taken over eight years to dig the canal, and it has cost $33,000,000. These are facts.

You might be led to believe, too, in listening to a Chicago man's talk about the drainage canal, that Admiral Dewey could now take a flying squadron from New Orleans to Buffalo by way of St. Louis, Peoria, Joliet and Chicago. But he couldn't. There has been talk of increasing the depth and width of the drainage canal and connecting river channels so as to make a deep waterway from the gulf to the great lakes, but nothing more substantial than talk has come of it.

What has really been accomplished has been the removal of Chicago's sewage from its lake front to the Mississippi watershed, much against the wishes and will of the residents along the said watershed, by the way. St. Louis, Peoria and other cities and towns just which the sewage of Chicago will now wash have protested and asked for injunctions from the inception of the canal to its completion, but all to no effect. The canal has been built and the water turned in, and the sewage will probably continue to flow into the Mississippi.

The length of the artificial canal from Robey street, Chicago, to Lockport, where it enters the Desplaines river, is 25 miles. At Lockport the channel widens to about 500 feet into a windage basin. The fall from the mouth of the Chicago river to the Lockport works is only seven feet, so that the flow of water in rapidity and volume through the Chicago river to the canal is entirely controlled by the bear trap dam and controlling works situated at the Lockport terminus, the fall south of the controlling works being abrupt and about 40 feet in the next four miles.

The controlling works involved the construction of seven sluice gates of metal, with the necessary bulkheads, and one bear trap dam. The sluice gates have a vertical flow of 20 feet and an opening of 32 feet. The bear trap dam has an opening of 160 feet.

Below the controlling works the Desplaines river was deepened and widened to have a capacity of 1,500,000 cubic feet of water a minute. This made extensive improvements necessary in Joliet, including the rebuilding of dam No. 1, the removal of dam No. 2, the building of locks and the construction of a massive concrete wall to separate the Illinois and Michigan canal from the river.

Although not exactly "a modern wonder" or a "marvelous feat of engineering," as labeled by the Chicago dailies, the drainage canal compares favorably in size and cost with other big enterprises of a similar kind.

The Kiel ship canal cost the same amount and the Manchester canal from $30,000,000 to $70,000,000. The Suez canal was capitalized at $100,000,000, and the Nicaragua enterprise is estimated to cost from $118,000,000 to $133,000,000. The Manchester canal is 35 miles long and has an average width of 120 feet at the bottom and a depth of 26 feet. The Suez canal, from Port Said to Suez, is 80 miles long; the North sea canal, connecting the North sea and the Baltic, is 61 miles in length, with a width of 72 feet and a depth of 20, and the Amsterdam canal is 17.9 miles long, with a width of 32 and a depth of 27 feet.

DRESS AND FASHION.

The Potentialities of the Tea Gown and Other Useful Items.

The world has most regard to the outside of the platter. The eye is caught and transmits its impression to the mind by evidences of tidiness and care, and so, if you desire to climb the ladder of social success, if you would have the world think well of you, show it by your toilet that you think well of yourself.

And the tea gown plays an important part in modern life. It is the sartorial weapon of the female Machiavelli. When she exercises that tyranny of tears, before which the mildest and kindest of men feel themselves despicable brutes, it is always in a tea gown as most effective. When she means to turn from her adamantine purpose the inflexible one before whom his small world trembles, she dons her latest tea gown and achieves a victory. Oh, yes! That tea gown has much to answer for, and she who knows not its power has still much to learn. The clinging tea gown, all soft, ss, lace and dainty draperies, is the affair of the moment, and these brief days, in the hours between the dark and the daylight, are the times when it is most worn, when rest after toil comes with afternoon tea before dressing for dinner.

Satin makes a large majority of the tea gowns of today, for it is soft, supple and wears well. Some are now made with the bodice and skirt separate, the bodice a three-quarter length loose jacket over a full trained skirt of the same material.

Many people are now having their tea gowns boned and shaped at the waist, so as to do away with corsets, and the result is distinctly comfortable. If corsets are worn, they should not be more than a ribbon corseture, else is the raison d'être of a tea gown, ease and restfulness, defeated.

The gown illustrated is in flowered panne, in shades of mauve and pink, with guipure transparent yoke and Medici collar, embroidered in cabochon emeralds and outlined with sables.

Plain, tight fitting skirts promise soon to be the exception. On all the smartest imported gowns plaits and quaint little gathers prevail, and the funeral knell of the plain eelskin skirt must be most cleverly arranged, otherwise they are painfully unbecoming. The really swell models are almost as tight as those not plaited at all. They preserve the line of grace and widen out at the bottom only. Some skirts have a wide flounce coming from the knee, but this is not graceful. One thing about which no doubt exists is the length of skirts, which grow longer as the season advances.

The dapper little bolero appears again in sealskin, astrakhan and velvet, and the "dormier" is to have a capuchon round the shoulders either of a colored velvet or another fur. Stretched bands continue to be a favorite trimming for cloth gowns, and these are laid on skirts to form tunics, as well as to border the hem, and many of the sack back and other coats have a stitching of this description carried down the center of the back. The home dressmaker with a machine could certainly do a great deal in this line.

Cloth gowns are also trimmed with all varieties of lamb in narrow and broad widths.

High Lights of Fashion.

The new capes have gained an element of beauty by being well fitted to the shoulders. This takes away the disfiguring hunched up effect of the short shoulder capes.

A sealskin bolero with a pastel cloth skirt, light blue or cream, is an exceedingly fetching combination.

Ravelling the ends of silk into fringes and then knotting them is an art which is being revived. It is worth acquiring, for sashes, dresses and the inevitable ends that hang from many stylish hats are thus treated.

Ermine contrasts with dark furs in somewhat crude fashion, but society likes the contrast.

Convenient and very smart clasps for feather or fur boas take somewhat the form of a letter S laid upon its side. A handsome design is a serpent thus twisted and jeweled with appropriate stones.

Exquisite smelling bottles come in iridescent glass with silver gilt mountings.

We have not only to consider how to use silk, but what silk to choose. Glance for linings is quite out of date. We must have something soft and for cloaks the richest brocades.

BRITISH MAY GET THE KRUPP GUNSITALY'S BIG ORDER IS LIKELY

Salisbury Can't Prove That American Flour Was Meant for the Boers—Australia Sends Troops to Africa—Bundesrath Incident is Closed—Good Will to America.

Berlin, Jan. 18.—Dispatches from Essen say that the Krupps have stopped work on guns ordered by Great Britain. This is declared, however, by the Deutsche Zeitung to be only a ruse, as Italy has ordered 50,000,000 marks' worth of guns, which, it asserts, are really intended for South Africa. The Deutsche Tages Zeitung states that Count Udo von Stolberg Weingrode will bring the matter up in the reichstag.

Sure Flour Was Meant for Boers. London, Jan. 18.—The New York Journal correspondent cables: "Mr. Choate, after long interviews with Lord Salisbury, cabled Salisbury's attitude fully to Secretary Hay. Choate suggested that England buy the flour she seized, and pay the owners the market value at Lourenco Marques. Salisbury is convinced that the flour was intended for the Boers, but is unable to prove it."

Admits Natives Fought Boers. Cape Town, Jan. 18.—The Salisbury Times prints a letter from Col. Baden-Powell in which he admits that Chief Linche, at the head of a band of natives, attacked the Boers, but declares that the Boers were to blame, for they attacked the blacks first.

British Warships in the Gulf. New Orleans, La., Jan. 18.—It is stated here that there are British warships within easy reach of the Mississippi river, assigned to the duty of escorting the mule transports when they shall have been loaded with animals from New Orleans for South Africa.

Says Boers Shot Woman. London, Jan. 18.—A news-agency dispatch from Mafeking, dated Jan. 3, accuses the Boers who are besieging that town of shelling the women's laager with seeming deliberation. Six and nine-pounder shells fell into the laager, killing a little girl and injuring two other children.

More Troops from Australia. Sydney, N. S. W., Jan. 18.—The second contingent of troops sent by the colony of New South Wales for service in South Africa left Sydney Wednesday amid scenes of unparalleled enthusiasm.

Check Re-enforcements. London, Jan. 18.—The government is relaxing its efforts to send re-enforcements. It is quite undecided as to when the eighth division will be shipped.

BUNDESRATH INCIDENT IS CLOSED.

Britain Releases German Steamer and Guarantees Against Further Seizures.

Berlin, Jan. 18.—The Bundesrath affair is now an ordinary diplomatic incident, the foreign office believing that the compensation and similar questions arising from the seizures at Delagoa bay will be settled between the German and English cabinets like thousands of other differences which never become acute.

An English telegram announces that the examination of the Bundesrath disclosed no cargo not scheduled in the manifest and that therefore the vessel will be released.

The English answer has also satisfied the German demand for guarantees against further seizures.

WHAT DO THE CHILDREN DRINK?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee but costs about 1/4 as much. All grocers sell it, 15c. and 25c.

Dr. Greene's NERVURA
BLOOD NERVE REMEDY

Broken in Health! Work an Effort! Weak, Nerveless, Exhausted!

You are out of health—never mind what caused it! Your nerves are weak and shaky, you wake mornings tired, exhausted, played out, with no strength, energy or ambition to face the day's work. You do not eat or sleep well, feel blue, discouraged, and nothing goes right with you. What you need—what you must have to make you well, vigorous and strong again, is Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, that great medicine which has cured more people than any other remedy in the world.

Mr. Michael Doherty, 3 Foster Street, Woburn, Mass., says:
"I was very much run down and was hardly able to work. I awoke in the morning as tired as when I went to sleep. I was sleepless, weak, and unable to keep at it for any length of time. The doctors said I had nervous debility. I began using Dr. Greene's Nervura and I immediately commenced to feel better. My restlessness left me, I could eat and sleep well, and when I awoke in the morning I felt refreshed and vigorous and able to do a good day's work. As you see, I am as strong and healthy as ever. I am, in fact, through the wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura. I feel like a new man. I am now writing to Dr. Greene, 35 West 11th St., New York City, confidentially about your case. So give me your advice without charge, and his sympathy and counsel will help me to get well."

WASHING FEATHER PILLOWS

Feather Pillows need washing once a year. Choose a bright, sunny day; fill a large tub half full of water that is almost boiling hot; dissolve enough Gold Dust Washing Powder in it to make a good suds; put one or two pillows in, according to size, push them up and down and rub them between the hands until clean. If one suds is not enough, use two or more; rinse in clear warm water, wring as dry as possible, and hang them out; when dry, shake well, and they will be as light and soft as new pillows.

TOOK A TOWN BY SHEER BLUFF

How Lieutenant Munro Captured Bayonong and 800 Filipinos With 50 Troopers.

By Lieutenant H. E. Gahan.

While the fighting in the Philippines has been somewhat overshadowed by the larger operations of the Boers and British in South Africa there comes once in awhile across continents and seas a story from Manila that reminds us we still have brave American soldiers fighting in Luzon. Few tales of heroism have been more spectacular than that which tells of the capture of Bayonong by Lieutenant James N. Munro of the Fourth cavalry.

Lieutenant Munro, in command of General Lawton's advance guard, was nearing Bayonong when he learned from native scouts that there were 800 Filipino soldiers in the place, fully armed and strongly entrenched. As Lieutenant Munro had with him only a squad of 50 cavalrymen it would have been rash to attack such an overwhelming force.

But the gallant lieutenant wanted very much to capture Bayonong. Perhaps the name attracted him. Still, he could not sacrifice his men in a foolhardy exploit. So he resorted to a good American bluff.

Tapping the telegraph line which ran into Bayonong, he sent a message to General Conon, the Filipino commander, which ran like this:

I am advancing on Bayonong with two regiments. If you surrender at once, you will save a slaughter of your troops.

The astonishment which seized General Conon when he received this message may be imagined. He had a natural disinclination to meet three regiments of fighting Americans, and flight was not practical. He attempted some wily negotiations, but the terrible Munro at the other end of the wire was not to be moved. This Munro hinted

LIEUTENANT JAMES MUNRO, that his troops were thirsting for slaughter and that if General Conon did not hurry up his surrender he would probably be cut to pieces before night. So General Conon agreed to an unconditional surrender.

"I will leave my division outside the town and come in with only 50 troops to take possession," said Munro. The Filipino general said this would be all right.

And so it was. Leaving his mythical army behind him, the intrepid lieutenant rode into Bayonong with 50 grinning troopers. He found the Filipinos waiting with stacked arms. First he took possession of several wagon loads of Mausers, and then he spread out his little squad to surround the 800 prisoners. Next he released 70 Spanish and two American prisoners and took account of a large amount of insurgent property. The bluff had worked.

It has not yet been learned what were the feelings of General Lawton when he found that his advance guard, under Lieutenant Munro, had captured a Filipino town and 800 soldiers.

Lieutenant Munro is a Minnesota boy. His home is near Lake City, which is about 60 miles southeast of St. Louis, on the Mississippi river. He is a farmer's son.

As a boy he worked and studied until he went to Minneapolis and entered the university, working to make sufficient money to carry him through. He entered the university in 1890 and continued for three years.

At the university Munro studied military tactics, which is required of all students. He was much interested and talked with George H. Morgan, now major of the Twenty-eighth regiment, who then had charge of military drill at the university. At this time there was announced an examination for appointment to West Point. Munro received sufficient encouragement to induce him to take the examination.

But here he received a disappointment, for one of the other applicants stood better, and the best the present hero could get was alternate. However he went to West Point, taking the examination there and he succeeded in beating the other man and landing the appointment. He left the university while in the junior class.

Lieutenant Munro stood high enough in his class at West Point to give him a cavalry assignment, and he was sent to the Fourth regiment after the usual furlough, which he spent in Minnesota. For a time he was stationed in Texas looking after the border Indians, and then his troop was sent to Fort Walla Walla, on Puget sound, where he remained until last July.

They Talk by Whistling.

Gomera, one of the Canary Islands, is a small island containing about 12,000 inhabitants. It is exceedingly rugged in formation, and the deep gorges and ravines which separate its mountain ranges are unbridged, and, therefore, it may be necessary to travel several miles in order to reach a point only a few hundred yards distant. Therefore, to obviate the necessity of doing this, the inhabitants have developed a whistling language, by means of which two men standing on opposite sides of the gorge can convey their meaning to each other. The teeth and fingers are used as well as the lips. Communications are made by notes in the whistle corresponding to syllables. The whistle, of course, carries much farther, and is much more distinct, than articulate speech could possibly be under the circumstances.—Stray Stories.

YES OR NO?

Janesville People are Respectfully Asked to Answer These Questions.

Is there anything in the evidence of one's senses?

Is there anything in the testimony of one's friends?

Can reliance be placed upon statements from people we know?

Are the opinions of local citizens of any greater moment than those of strangers?

Would you sooner believe people living in some far away place than citizens of your own city?

We think not! for home proof can easily be investigated.

Mr. John Stetson, of Hotel Myers, day clerk, says: "A physician pronounced my trouble kidney complaint. If the severe pain across the small of my back is any indication of the said complaint, I guess I had it. For two years I suffered with attacks, sometimes virulent, sometimes a dull, grinding ache, which robbed me of considerable energy. I used in addition to doctor's prescriptions, several preparations said to be sure cures for kidney complaint, but up until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's Drug Co.'s drug store, I received little if any permanent relief. I took a thorough course of treatment prescribed by Doan's Kidney Pills and it cured me. Up to date I have not noticed any recurrence of my old trouble."
